Doctor's fears over NHS plans – as Crown Health Centre to close EARLY

HAVERHILL is up in arms after it was announced the town's walk-in Crown Health Centre is to close three months EARLIER than planned.

A campaign launched by the Weekly News only two weeks ago is calling for the closure – then set for October – to be halted until sufficient alternative health provision has been guaranteed by NHS Suffolk.

More than 2,200 people have signed a petition run by the Weekly News and Haverhill Town Council on market stalls.

But this week, in an outrageous twist,

NHS Suffolk announced that the closure of the centre, which has 900 registered patients and has had 22,000 walk-ins in the past three years, would now take place on July 28.

Haverhill Town Council immediately issued a statement slamming the decision as "a disgraceful insult to the people of Haverhill", and MP Matthew Hancock has already met with the head of the primary care trust calling for more health funding for the town.

Yesterday afternoon, PCT representatives met with doctors from all the town's practices, but the short-term funding offered to finance a few extra sessions after the centre's closure – amounting to only £50,000 over six months – was described as "ludicrous" by Dr Paul Stephenson, managing practice at Christmas Maltings surgery, the largest in the town.

Dr Stephenson said: "It is just a drop in the ocean when they are saving £1.2m by closing the clinic. We made it quite plain to them that there will be unmet clinical need in Haverhill and it will destabilise GP practice in the town.

"We have profound concerns about this. The clinic was put into Haverhill because of our socio-economic make-up and deprivation. To take it away without the majority of that money remaining in

'Ludicrous': Dr Paul Stephenson has slammed NHS Suffolk's plans to spend just £50,000 on extra GP hours after closing the Crown Health Centre, left.

Haverhill is iniquitous.

"If the Riverside clinic in Ipswich closes, which is a similar facility, that money will go to Ipswich Hospital, so why on earth is the same thing not happening in Haverhill? The vast majority of out-of-hours cover has been provided by the clinic and it seems nonsensical that they have reduced the Haverhill base hours.

"They already cut £300,000 from our budget three-four years ago using a formula which was fundamentally flawed because it took no account of our deprivation of socio demographics. We will be holding further meetings, because we are going to need more funding to cope with the extra work."

Caution for prison nurse who befriended fraudster

A PRISON nurse has received a caution after befriending a "convicted fraudster" – taking a day off to drive him almost 100 miles to a probation hostel in Kent.

David Carter appeared before the Nursing and Midwifery Council (NMC) charged with giving a patient his personal mobile number and taking a day off on March 16, 2010, to drive the same patient to Fleming House Probation Hostel, in Maidstone, Kent, when he was released from a local prison.

Carter, who was an agency nurse in the health care department at HMP

Highpoint and HMP Whitmoor, near Huntingdon, at the time of the breaches and was involved in the prisoner's care, admitted both charges.

A further charge, which involved him attempting to persuade the patient not to go to the hostel but to go to Cambridge with him, was dropped as there was insufficient evidence.

David Bennett, representing Carter, told the NMC panel at a hearing last week that the patient was a "convicted fraudster who was known for his evasive nature" so he could have made up a story relating to the third charge.

He said when patient A was inducted into the hostel he stated that his next of kin was his partner whose name was "David Charles" and who was a doctor and that Carter recognised that his actions fell short of the standards expected of him as a registered nurse.

At the hearing, Carter said he felt uncomfortable about taking patient A to the probation hostel but that he felt "obligated" after agreeing to do so.

After taking the prisoner to the probation hostel as agreed, Carter waited for the patient and drove him to his brother's house.

However NMC case presenter, Rachna Gokani, said that Carter's actions took place over a period of time and were not a single lapse of judgement.

The NMC panel noted and Lesley White, panel chair, said: "Mr Carter chose to conceal his actions over a period of about four months which the panel concluded demonstrated a lack of integrity on the part of Mr Carter."

The panel concluded that Carter's action brought the reputation of the profession into disrepute and gave him a three-year caution order.

Silver band return with top prize

HAVERHILL Silver Band returned with the top prize after travelling to a competition in Sussex at the weekend. Members competed in a brass band entertainments competition held at the Hawth Centre Theatre in Crawley on Sunday.

There were six bands, of either National First or Championship section status, from London and the Southern Counties, and Haverhill were awarded top prize by adjudicator Bob Childs, conductor of the Cory Band, currently ranked number one band in the world. The requirement was for competing bands to prepare a program of music to last 24 minutes which should provide musical excellence and entertainment value.

The band will be playing at Wratting Fete on June 2 or in an evening concert at Kedington Community Centre on Sunday, June 10. On the evening of July 8, they join the Operatic Society in a Last Night of the Festival concert at the Old Independent Church, Haverhill.

Jubilee jumble sale

A Jubilee jumble event is being held in the main hall at Haverhill Arts Centre on Saturday, June 2, from 10am-2pm. Clothes, books, toys and bric a brac will be available, with all proceeds going to St Nicholas Hospice Care.

Woman 'sworn at'

AN incident in which a woman was shouted and sworn at in a supermarket car park is being investigated by police. Police in Haverhill are seeking information following the incident at the Tesco car park in Cangle Road.

A man allegedly shouted and swore at a woman in her 40s between 3.15pm and 3.30pm on Sunday, May 13.

The man is described as white, in his 50s, of scruffy in appearance, 5ft 6ins, of medium build and with short brown hair. He was driving a dark car, possibly a Ford Mondeo.

Calls can be made to PC Christian Thomas, or Crimestoppers anonymously on 0800 555 111.

Top honour for town stalwart

BY JO DEEKS

FREEDOM of the town was awarded to a long-serving town clerk as a new mayor was sworn into office.

Cllr Pat Hanlon took over from Cllr Maureen Byrne as Mayor of Haverhill – and his first task was to confer the Honorary Freedom of the Town of Haverhill to retiring town clerk Gordon Mussett.

Cllr Hanlon, who also served as a member of St Edmundsbury Borough Council for eight years, said he was on the town council when Mr Mussett was appointed and fully supported the award. He was looking forward to a busy year in office and expected to see a little less of his two grandchildren.

He said: "I am very honoured to serve Haverhill, especially as moving here all those years ago in the expansion scheme has helped my family tremendously. I have always wanted to help the less well-off and to give something back to Haverhill."

Previous mayor Cllr Byrne thanked Mr Mussett, who has been replaced by Will Austin, for his outstanding service to the town council and for his significant achievements for Haverhill. She wished him a very long and very happy retirement.

Town councillors agreed unanimously that Mr Mussett should receive the accolade for his services over the past 17 years and a certificate and medal were awarded to him.

Cllr Byrne reminded the meeting of Mr Mussett's role in saving Haverhill Arts Centre from closure, and in the development and professionalisation of the town council.

She also congratulated him on the "marvellous" programme of events now organised by the town council and the Arts Centre.

She also highlighted his professional and technical skills as a clerk, and his recent and prestigious achievement in leading a successful bid to pilot Neighbourhood Community Budgeting in Haverhill, the only successful town council-led application.

Cllr Byrne said that despite Mr Mussett's achievements as clerk, he had still "mucked in" when necessary in the day-to-day operation of the town council.

Early closure is 'insult' to town

NEWS that the closure of the Crown Health Centre has been brought forward by three months has sparked anger.

Protests were already mounting after the announcement that it would close in October, because it had failed to reduce attendance at A&E departments and was costing £1.2m a year to run.

This week, NHS Suffolk announced that the centre will now close at midnight on July 28. It was stated that the closure had been brought forward to ensure adequate staffing levels to maintain patient safety.

Martin Royal, director of corporate services, said: "We have learned from the engagement exercise that there needs to be improved access to GP appointments. We are working with GP practices in the town to offer support through this change, and will monitor the changes very carefully."

"Haverhill is an important town, and patients will get their share of funding over the next year for services such as dementia, carer support and a new telephone service for urgent care and more health checks aimed at keeping people healthy."

A statement from Haverhill Town Council said: "This latest decision to close the Crown Health Centre three months earlier than originally proposed is a disgraceful insult to the community of Haverhill."

"NHS Suffolk has taken no action whatsoever to help the registered patients and other users of the Crown. This will leave people without the information they need in order to access urgent health care – their lives are quite Haverhill's MP Matthew Hancock has spoken to the head of Suffolk's Primary Care Trust to demand that Haverhill's GPs are given enough resources to cope after the closure of the centre.

Mr Hancock said: "After news that the Crown centre will now close in July I spoke to Paul Watson, head of Suffolk PCT, to let him know what people in the town feel about the decision. I have demanded he ensure enough resources for GPs in Haverhill to compensate for this unexpected change, and to ensure the transition can be managed smoothly."

"Haverhill is a growing town. It needs more healthcare resources. The Government has protected the NHS budget, and NHS Suffolk's budget is rising by £24m this year, on top of the £1.2m saved by closing the Crown centre. Haverhill deserves its fair share, and it is essential that some of this is invested in Haverhill to ensure those who live there get the level of care they need."

literally being put at risk."

Borough and county councillor Anne Gower commended the Weekly News for launching its campaign to press for more health facilities in the town and said it was even more important now that the centre was to close sooner.

She said: "I was one of the patients to register there and I have had no information what so ever about what I am supposed to do when it closes."

"I think it is purely a financial thing. I have asked three times for the figures promised at the One Haverhill meeting without success. There seem to be absolutely no measures in place for the registered patients or the walk-in people. Where are they supposed to go?"

Margaret Marks, who has coordinated Haverhill's First Responders for many years, and husband Tim Marks, who was recently elected as Mayor of St Edmundsbury, said they remained "absolutely incensed" by the comments from NHS Suffolk.

Mrs Marks said: "They are totally ignoring the facts and they are that the GPs cannot increase access to doctors or make appointments in a shorter timeframe because they simply do not have capacity."

"The GPs are run off their feet – hence the 22,000-plus visits to the Crown Health Centre."

To the board members of NHS Suffolk

Please stop the closure of the Crown Health Centre until you have planned properly for Haverhill's future health needs. Please make your future decisions about the town in public and in Haverhill, so that we can have our say. We demand a fair share of the additional £24m funding for NHS Suffolk and if the Crown Health Centre is to close, we demand the equivalent investment in the GP and out-of-hours services.

Crime down as crooks caught

CRIME figures in Haverhill have taken a dramatic dip – despite a sharp spike earlier in the year.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, police sector commander for Haverhill, said he was delighted with the latest figures and paid tribute to the hard work of his officers in achieving a substantial reduction in crime.

However, he said officers would not let up in their efforts to maintain low crime rates in the town after putting some of “the usual suspects” behind bars.

For the second week running, there have been no house burglaries in Haverhill in the past week. This is compared to a weekly average of one, and only one burglary of sheds or outbuildings, compared to a weekly average of three.

In January the town was hit by a crime spike, with 33 acquisitive crimes – in which property is stolen – reported in just one week, compared to an average over the previous three years of 18.

This year, since April 1, a total

BY JO DEEKS

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

of 251 offences have been reported to police in Haverhill, compared to a three-year average of 295, a 15 per cent reduction.

Anti-social behaviour crimes have seen the most dramatic decrease by 41 per cent, down from 171 so far this year compared to 289 in the same period over the past three years.

Insp Ferrie said the figures proved his view that one or two prolific offenders were responsible for the majority of the crimes reported earlier in the year.

He said: “We knew what was going on and all we had to do was catch them. Crime statistics go down when they are back where they should be and I am delighted that people can feel safer in their homes again.”

“I am happy that our crime and anti-social behaviour is way below what it was. My officers are doing a really good job and will continue to do so.”

Car crime and public order offences were both up, but Insp Ferrie said he believed the increase in the second category was because police were dealing more robustly with incidents.

Sentence welcomed for 'violent, nasty criminal'

HAVERHILL's police chief has welcomed the jailing of a prolific offender for seven years.

Lee Holland, 29, was sentenced to seven years' imprisonment last week at Ipswich Crown Court for an aggravated burglary offence in Haverhill (see facing page).

Insp Ferrie said: “I am really pleased for the people of Haverhill that this violent, nasty criminal is off the streets and no longer able to prey on people in the town. The burglary rate has fallen sharply since he was remanded in custody and people can feel safer in their homes now that he is back in prison.”

Royal Academy beckons for Emillie

A SIXTH form student has been shortlisted to exhibit her work in the Royal Academy student summer exhibition, considered to be the most prestigious student art show in the world.

Emillie Ferris, 17, a student at Samuel Ward Academy in Haverhill, entered a piece of work entitled Some Might Call It Magic. From 1,707 entries, the field has been whittled down to the last 15 by a team Royal Academicians.

In her photographic piece of artwork, Emillie said she wanted to capture the dreamlike childhood notion we have all had at one point wishing we could fly.

Emillie is hoping to go to Lincoln University to study media production. She has enjoyed photography since she was 12 and has her own website showcasing her photographic art skills.

Burglar jailed for 'terrifying' raid on house

BY RAYMOND BROWN

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A MAN who subjected a teenager to a terrifying ordeal after breaking into what he thought was an empty house has been jailed for seven years.

Lee Holland, 29, of Wellington Terrace, Haverhill, pleaded guilty to a charge of aggravated burglary when he appeared at Ipswich Crown Court.

The court heard how 19-year-old Thomas Leegood was in bed at his home in Clarendon Road, Haverhill, on the morning of January 19.

Prosecutor Michael Crimp said Mr Leegood heard what he believed was someone breaking into the house followed by the sound of someone searching his sister's bedroom.

After calling the police, Mr Leegood was still in bed when the door to his room opened and in came Holland armed with a knife and a rolling pin, said Mr Crimp.

Mr Crimp told the court that Holland had "tapped" Mr Leegood on the head with the rolling pin before starting to gather some of Mr Leegood's possessions.

Moments later, police officers arrived at the house and Holland took hold of Mr Leegood's arm and threatened to kill him with the knife if he didn't tell the police to leave.

Mr Leegood had described the incident as "the scariest thing that had ever happened to him", said Mr Crimp.

Police intervened and Mr Leegood was freed while Holland suffered a broken ankle as he tried to escape, but was captured almost immediately.

Richard Potts, mitigating, said Holland had believed the house had been unoccupied and denied going to the premises armed with any weapons.

While Mr Leegood had been struck with the rolling pin, he had not suffered any serious injury.

Sentencing Holland to seven years' imprisonment, Judge David Goodin described Mr Leegood's ordeal as "terrifying."

Health centre IS effectively reducing A&E admissions... we need 24-hour cover

Sir, people in Haverhill are concerned about the effect on them of the closure of the Crown Health Centre, as highlighted in our local newspaper. This centre was set up primarily to reduce the unacceptable proportionately large number of people from Haverhill going to A&E departments. It was to be a walk-in centre composing of a doctor with the equipment necessary and supported by a nurse. This should ensure that the majority of Haverhill patients, who would otherwise have gone to A&E at Addenbrooke's or West Suffolk, would be treated in Haverhill. An excellent solution. I understand that there is a fixed charge levied on the PCT for each acceptance into A&E so a potential cost saving could be made. Haverhill is a growing town and the town council is demonstrating that it wants to develop the town in a way that reflects the fact that it is now the fifth-largest in Suffolk. In the past four years many improvements have been made to the town for the benefit of all residents. This includes the addition of the Crown Health Centre. It is not surprising to me to hear that the number of visits to A&E by residents of Haverhill has remained fairly constant since the health centre became operational, although a decline was expected. The town is growing and therefore you would expect the number of visits to A&E to increase. So it appears to me that the Crown Health Centre is effectively reducing the number of A&E admissions. I understand that the equipment necessary for the doctor to provide all the services was not made available, so there could have been a greater reduction in the attendance at A&E than was actually achieved.

In the firing line: the Crown Health Centre in Withersfield Road, Haverhill, is to close because health bosses say it has failed to reduce A&E admissions.

There is a situation where, if the Crown Health Centre did not exist, patients would have to go to A&E for situations not requiring the attention of a doctor such as cuts requiring steri-strips, strains and sprains, some asthma and other allergic situations where prescribed medicine is not available etc. Many common accidents and complaints can be readily addressed and/or progressed onwards by a senior nurse practitioner and it does not necessarily need the initial attention of a doctor or paramedic. Having a 24-hour nurse practitioner service "emergency attention centre" based in Haverhill should fulfil the initial objective of the Crown Health Centre. Having 24-hour cover by a nurse practitioner service should also reduce the use of out-of-hours doctors service, whose centre is being moved out of Haverhill, and also reduce the load on the ambulance service. As a result there should be savings to existing costs. Where could this emergency attention centre be located? How about it one of the existing surgeries in the Christmas Maltings complex or in one of the health centre buildings in Camps Road?

I am concerned that some 900 people have registered with the Crown Health Centre rather than one of the Haverhill doctor's surgeries. This surely was not one of the objectives of the centre. It has been evident over the past few years that waiting times for a doctors' appointment have increased, in my view unacceptably. Do we need a new doctors' surgery in another part of town? Could this emergency attention centre somehow help relieve the pressure on our doctors' service?

I am delighted to see that our local newspaper is taking on the fight for maintaining the quality of the health service in Haverhill. What we need now is a champion who can promote an agreed working plan of the way ahead for our town's health services. I believe the residents of Haverhill and outlying villages deserve a 24-hour walk-in service in Haverhill to provide a quick diagnosis and fix or progress onwards their conditions rather than having to go all the way to A&E departments.

I have tried to make these comments and observations in a constructive light and I hope very much that we do not lose our 24-hour walk-in centre.

COUNCILLORS Karen Richardson and Anne Gower will be available to meet residents at Haverhill Library from 10am-noon on Saturday.

They invite people along to speak to them about any issues or problems they would like to raise.

Problems brought to them previously are as broad as housing, schools, parking, trees, drainage, planning, council tax, litter bins, the High Street and the future development of Haverhill. They urge people to go along and let them try to help.

Pair caught with bags of ketamine

TWO men who admitted having a large amount of the class C drug ketamine in their possession have appeared before magistrates.

Robbie Brophy, 20, of Wratting Road, Haverhill, and Frazer Priestley, 20, of Downs Place, Haverhill, admitted possessing 71.49 grams of the drug in Haverhill in February.

Magistrates adjourned their case for three weeks so that pre-sentence reports can be prepared, looking at a possible community order including unpaid work, but keeping all options open.

Lesla Small, prosecuting, said police executed a search warrant at Brophy's flat and found three bags of a white substance.

Forensic examination showed this was ketamine, which police estimated to have a street value of between £1,700 and £2,250.

The two were arrested, after both of their fingerprints were found on the bags, but gave no-comment interviews to police.

Lyndon Davies, representing both men, said although it was quite a large amount, the drugs were for their own use. They had paid £200 each for the ketamine and suspected it might have been an alternative 'legal high' substance because of the price.

Mr Davies disputed the police valuation, which he said would have made the drug more expensive than cocaine, and estimated it at nearer £700.

He said: "It was bought in bulk for personal use at a time when they were using quite a lot of it."

"It seems to be the drug of choice for a lot of younger people in the Haverhill area. The police valuation suggests a price of £25 to £35 a gram, when the whole point of this being a party drug with teenagers is that it is relatively cheap."

"The most they would expect to have paid was £10 to £15 a gram for smaller quantities."

David Dean, chairman of the bench, said their sentences might be different as Priestly had never been before a court, but Brophy had a previous conviction for a drug offence in 2009 and was subject to an anti-social behaviour order for his involvement in an illegal rave.

He said: "We are conscious of the fact that this was a large amount and you, Mr Brophy, are in debt at the moment from paying fines to the Crown Court."

Anastasia, 12, makes the cut

SCHOOLGIRL Anastasia Dawkins has taken the kindest cut of all by having her long hair shorn.

Pupils at Place Farm Primary School in Haverhill witnessed the 12-year-old Castle Manor pupil having her locks cut to raise money for the Motor Neurone Disease Association. She made the effort following her grandfather Robert Kingrose's struggle with the condition.

Not content with raising well over £200 for her effort, Anastasia also arranged to donate the hair that had been removed to the Little Princesses Trust, which uses the hair donated to make wigs for children who have lost theirs through illness.

Anastasia had her hair cut in front of the entire school during their celebration assembly, but most special to her was the presence of her grandfather who inspired the effort, her grand-

Town set for best summer ever

Fun: Bread and Butter will star at the Street Festival. Picture: Tony West.

FLAGS are out and the bunting is up as Haverhill gets ready for its biggest ever summer full of events.

Haverhill Town Council led the initiative to decorate the town centre with red, white and blue bunting, Union Jack flags and specially-made Haverhill 2012 flags – and it has already met with praise from members of the public and town centre traders.

Town clerk Will Austin said: "Town councilors were very keen to play their part in making this year of the Jubilee and the Olympic Torch a real celebration and the street decorations reflect that."

The first big happening of the summer is the Queen's Diamond Jubilee, with celebrations over the Jubilee weekend including a Jubilee Tribute Night on Saturday, June 2 featuring the music of Queen and The Beatles alongside Haverhill's own singers, the talented winners of the Jubilee Factor competition which took place in April, in association with the Weekly News.

Haverhill Arts Centre will screen the film Jubilee Pageant on Sunday, June 3 and there will be a lighting of a Jubilee Beacon at St Mary's Church on Monday, June 4 at 10pm, as part of a nationwide project involving 4,000 communities in the UK. This event will include Haverhill Churches Together's mini version of Songs of Praise.

qualifying games in Euro 2012 for free and hoping to attract family audiences to view matches on the biggest screen in town, starting on Monday, June 11 at 5pm with England v France.

The Haverhill Festival starts on Thursday, June 14 with Marty Wilde and ends on Sunday, July 8 with a Last Night of the Proms event at the Old Independent Church.

The Olympic Torch comes to town on Saturday, July 7 and is set to be the single biggest spectator event ever to take place in Haverhill.

Haverhill Town Council's annual Street Festival is on the same day, with entertainers including the mighty Titan the Robot, plus sporting-themed acts.

The town council's Summer in Haverhill programme opens with the Haverhill Historic Vehicle Rally on Sunday, July 15 in the Town Hall Car Park.

The Great Big Tribute Nights on Haverhill Market Square in August will feature the music of some of the biggest names in pop and rock.

There will be free family fun days every Wednesday from July 25 to August 23 at venues across the town.

A complete list of events and activities can be found at www.haverhill-tc.gov.uk.

Metal magic: Titan the robot will feature during the Street Festival. CP

Outdoor pursuit: Place Farm pupils with Ben Pumfrey, a local landscaper and chairman of Haverhill in Bloom.

Quest for knowledge: learning the secrets of science at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College.

Busy youngsters find time to expand their interests

PRIMARY school pupils have been taking part in science lessons and joining forces to create an outdoor learning area.

Year 5 pupils from Place Farm and Burton End Primary Schools in Haverhill took part in science lessons at Castle Manor Business and Enterprise College. The classes regularly visit the science laboratories at the secondary school to take lessons with science specialists as part of their normal topics of work.

Students from Burton End have been learning about plants and used the lab equipment, along with a variety of chemicals to investigate their effect on photosynthesis in plants. Students from Place Farm, which is part of the Castle Partnership along with Castle Manor, investigated volcanoes and even made volcanoes of their own.

Staff and students from Castle Manor take part in a variety of activities in local primaries as part of the partnership, with Place Farm, or as part of the local family of schools. Having students attend Castle Manor or having staff visit students at their own primary school is part of the Castle Partnership's emphasis on all-through education.

■ Place Farm pupils who also attend 2nd

Haverhill Sea Scouts have been taking part in a gardening project as part of the Scouting Community Week.

The event is intended to encourage Beavers, Cubs and Scouts to take part in community projects and to make a difference in the place around them. The pupils are landscaping a small area of the garden, which will enable pupils to think about the natural world around them and help in maintaining the area.

The pupils met Ben Pumfrey, a local landscaper and chairman of Haverhill in Bloom, who has been helping them with the project. The project has been organised by David Cianciola, who is a familiar face at both Scouts as their Group Scout Leader and at the school, as a higher level teaching assistant who works to support pupils with their learning.

Old schools set to be demolished

Police delighted to see 'crime magnets' go

POLICE are hoping that empty school buildings which had been targeted by arsonists, vandals and metal thieves will be demolished as soon as possible now Government approval has been received.

Inspector Peter Ferrie, sector commander for Haverhill Police, said the disused Castle Hill and Chalkstone Middle School buildings in Haverhill, which closed last July as part of the change from a three-tier to two-tier system, had become 'absolute crime magnets', with constant reports from members of the public of them being broke into.

BY JO DEEKS

Insp Ferrie said: "It cannot happen soon enough for me - we will be delighted to see them levelled. They have become absolute crime magnets, with people breaking in to steal metal and damaging them."

"What these people don't realise when they crawl into the roof space of these buildings to steal pipes is that is that most of them contain asbestos, and they are exposing themselves to danger from it."

Insp Ferrie said he was hoping that plans to demolish both buildings would go ahead in the next few weeks, after receiving approval from the education minister. The Castle Hill site is likely to be redeveloped for housing, while the Chalkstone site is earmarked for a community use.

College
scoops
Ofsted
praise

BY ADAM LUKE

Email: editorial@haverhillweeklynews.co.uk

A SCHOOL which develops its pupils into “thoughtful, mature and responsible young people” has been given the highest possible rating by inspectors.

Ofsted lavished praise on Linton Village College (LVC) following a two-day visit earlier this month, rating it as outstanding for the achievement of its pupils, quality of teaching, behaviour, safety, leadership and management.

A team of four inspectors – who recorded the school as ‘outstanding’ overall – observed more than 30 lessons, met groups of students, staff and governors, and received questionnaires from about 400 parents and carers.

Lead inspector Gulshanbir Kayembe said in the report: “LVC provides an outstanding all-round education for its students. Consequently all groups of students achieve exceptionally well and develop into thoughtful, mature and responsible young people by the time they leave.

“Teaching is outstanding overall and rarely less than good. Assessment information is used exceptionally well to challenge students to achieve their very best.”

LVC currently has 828 students and became an academy in February last year.

Headteacher Caroline Derbyshire was singled out for praise.

Mr Kayembe said: “The principal leads by example, setting the highest of expectations for all in order to achieve the college’s mission of being a ‘world-class centre of learning’.

“Leaders at all levels have worked successfully together to improve the quality of teaching since the last inspection and to maintain high levels of achievement.”

But there is still room for improvement at the Cambridge Road school, with Ofsted asking teachers to be more precise when giving feedback to students so they know how they are doing and where they need to work harder.

Mrs Derbyshire said: “These findings truly reflect the way in which the school has improved over the last five years and are a tribute to our students and teachers.

“We are particularly delighted because LVC is the first secondary school in Cambridgeshire to receive an ‘outstanding’ judgment since the new, more rigorous Ofsted inspection framework was introduced in January 2012.”

Team wants to buy your empty house

OWNERS of empty buildings are being urged to consider selling up to help those who need homes in the area.

Havebury Housing Partnership has £547,000 to spend on buying, refurbishing and re-letting homes which have been vacant for at least six months.

They are also interested in commercial buildings which have been for sale for a while.

affordable housing is working with Forest Heath District Council and St Edmundsbury Borough Council to find properties.

Both councils are writing to the owners of empty homes asking if they would be prepared to sell. Opportunities for people to lease their empty properties could also be on the table.

Cllr Rona Burt, cabinet member for housing at Forest Heath District Council, said: "This funding opens up all kinds of options for bringing empty property back into use, and we are urging owners to come forward and discuss their options with us."

"They will be surprised at some of the options we can offer."

For more information, or if you know of any empty properties in the locality, call Melanie Mills of Havebury Housing Partnership on (01284) 722008.

Chimney fires are best avoided

IS your chimney at risk of fire?

Horscroft's Chimney Sweeps of Haverhill offers this advice:

■ What causes chimney fires?

Chimney fires occur when deposits of carbon and dust accumulate in a chimney and are set alight by sparks or flames from a fire.

Most solid fuels create some kind of soot which without regular cleaning of chimneys builds up in the flue and eventually catches fire. Ensure that wood has dried out adequately before use to reduce the amounts of tarry deposits which these fuels produce when burnt.

■ How are they avoided?

Chimney fires: Can be avoided with some straightforward practical steps.

ADVERTISEMENT FEATURE

Regular cleaning is the only way chimney fires can be avoided.

The National Safety Council recommends that chimneys be swept thoroughly at least twice a year, once perhaps at the beginning of the cold weather period, ie after the summer/autumn, to clear the chimney of debris (birds nests, etc.) which may have accumulated and also to remove soot. They should also be swept mid-way through the winter to ensure a fire does not occur. Obviously the more often a fire is lit and the more varied the fuels used, the more frequently it should be cleaned. Do not rely on chemical blocks to clean a chimney. There is no better method than a sweep's brush!

■ Chimney fires and the fire brigade
Almost half of all fires attended by fire brigades are chimney fires.

Some local authorities have instituted charges to attend these fires, therefore it is in your interest to ensure that your chimney is swept regularly.

■ Are they dangerous?

Yes, chimney fires are particularly dangerous in that they can structurally weaken the flue liner and chimney block, causing cracks to form into which sparks may enter and so cause fires elsewhere in the house.

Burning soot may also fall on carpets and other furnishing and set them alight. In the worst case scenario your home will burn down, and you won't be insured.

Meltdown moment: Horscroft's Chimney Sweeps can help you take the right precautions.

■ Do you have a chimney liner or worried about your existing flue and chimney?

For a small fee Horscroft's can carry out a full CCTV survey of your chimney or liner and advise of any remedial work that may be required.

■ What do I do if a fire starts?

Call 999 and get out.

Other safety hints regarding open fires are:

1. Keep a spark guard in front of open fires when the room is unoccupied.
2. Secure a spark guard to the fireplace if children are in the room and never leave them alone with an open fire or with matches.
3. Keep fires small; avoid banking them up too high where hot coals may tumble out onto carpeting.
4. Avoid placing mirrors over fireplaces as this attracts people, especially children, to come too close to the fire where their clothing may catch fire.

With more than four generations of experience and customer satisfaction, Horscroft's is best placed to give you a professional service.

Life after Potterland

FRESH out of Anglia Ruskin University with an illustration degree under his belt, Thomas Taylor dropped off his portfolio at a London publisher, and was delighted to land his first professional commission.

The brief? To design the cover of a new book, by an unknown author, about a certain young wizard called... Harry Potter.

In the 15 years since creating the iconic cover for Harry Potter and the Philosopher's Stone, Thomas has written and illustrated more than 10 picture books for children, and has just penned his first novel.

A thriller for readers aged 10 and above, Haunters is being launched at a special event at Heffers in Cambridge this evening, which will be like coming home for Thomas – he worked at Heffers' Children's Shop for five years in the 1990s.

But he's bracing himself for the wizard-related questions that will inevitably crop up.

"I never really have an awful lot to say about it, that's the problem," he confides.

"I just happened to drop off my samples at the right time; among them I had a dragon or two, and some wizards, and they decided to give it to me."

Back then, he adds, nobody had heard of JK Rowling: "It was an unknown book by an unknown author, so an unknown illustrator seemed appropriate, I suppose."

"They gave me the book to read, and there's a passage early on where Harry is described, so I just went ahead and did my best." Did he have any inking, when he read it, that it'd become a global phenomenon?

"No, I can't say that I did," admits Thomas. "I did enjoy it, but I didn't think 'wow, this is going to be the next big thing'. It just seemed like a great little adventure."

Still, it's a very nice calling card.

Thomas's only regret, in fact, is not buying a first edition: only 450 were printed ("we had 10 in Heffers!") and by the time the publishers sent him one, it was already on its second edition.

Naturally, Thomas is hoping there'll be plenty of editions of Haunters, and he admits he's particularly pleased with it.

"It's a supernatural thriller about people who can travel in time using their dreams."

"When they get there they're perceived as ghosts, where they can either help people in the past, or haunt them, in order to try and make them behave differently and change the course of history."

It sounds pretty scary: "It's not really. There's a lot about fear in there, but it's exciting, it's not meant to scare the reader – although the cover looks pretty scary!"

Yet it's a far cry from the rather gentler picture books Thomas usually writes, which include the likes of Little Mouse and the Big Cupcake and Jack's Tractor.

"It's quite a big leap," he agrees, "but actually I've always wanted to write novels, I've just been a bit cowardly about getting round to trying it. But it's worked out OK so far, and I think fiction is where my real home is."

Still, Thomas will never be able to entirely distance himself from THAT book: "Harry Potter gave me a magical start to my career and I'm very grateful to him for that. He also gave me my 15 minutes of bar-room fame one Cambridge evening during the legendary Bird in Hand pub quiz," he adds.

"The quiz master, who didn't know me at all, asked: 'How is Thomas Taylor related to Harry Potter's JK Rowling?'"

"I was stunned, but at least I knew the answer."

■ Thomas Taylor will launch Haunters at Heffers in Trinity Street at 6.30pm today. The event is non-ticketed, but book your place in advance by calling (01223) 463224.

Alfie's act certain to be a riot

AFTER 18 years serving with the Humber-side force, Alfie Moore, pictured above, certainly has a lot of stories to tell. And after five years working the clubs, he knows how to tell them. In this show, the bobby-turned-comic talks about the history of protest and riots (including ones that he has been personally involved in), with lots of digressions regarding his experiences on the beat. From the Nika riot in 532 AD through the May Day riots in 1517, right up to date with the recent English summer knockabouts, Alfie talks about what causes these incidents and what it feels like to be on the other side of the riot shield. So come along and find out what it's like to be on the front line dealing with the most challenging awkward squad of them all: the general public.

DYNAMIC indie band Kasabian bring their live, sold-out O2 gig to Cambridge Vue via a high-definition, state-of-the-art film which includes unique footage of the band's entire show.

It offers a unique experience for fans in Cambridge to see the band live in action, and features the very latest in visual and sound technology.

The Leicester-based band took the music world by storm in the early 2000s, mixing traces of the Stone Roses, Happy Mondays, and Primal Scream with Oasis-sized confidence and DJ Shadow-influenced electronics. Since then, Kasabian have gone on to produce millions of records and sell-out tours, win numerous awards and achieve recognition as one of the UK's most exciting and groundbreaking acts. The band's 10-date nationwide tour in 2011 followed the release of their chart topping fourth album Velociraptor!.

Kasabian Live! Live At The O2, features the band's entire live performance from the London O2 Arena at the end of last year, including the album's hit singles Fire, Days Are Forgotten, Goodbye Kiss and Thick as Thieves.

Tom Meighan, lead singer of Kasabian said: "We love the film, it brings something different for our fans who can see us up close on the big screen! The sound and visuals absolutely rock and we could not be more excited about the results. This was a truly memorable tour for us and an unforgettable night, and we love the fact it has been captured on film in such a brilliant way."

The big film

MEN IN BLACK 3 (3D)

Certificate PG, 1h45m

THIRD time's a charm for the sharp-suited Men In Black, who rediscover their swagger 10 years after the lacklustre second instalment.

Set largely in July 1969, MIB3 is a time-travelling caper which ties up loose threads in a neat bow, suggesting this could and perhaps should be the end of the Smith and Jones double-act.

It would be an entertaining swansong for a franchise which burst onto the big screen in 1997 and became one of the year's biggest hits behind Titanic and The Lost World: Jurassic Park. Director Barry Sonnenfeld imbues each breathlessly orchestrated scene with impish humour, from a protracted kiss that churns stomachs to a slime-splattered skirmish with a giant fish.

The film opens in the Lunar Max high security prison where a Boglodite assassin called Boris

The Animal (Jemaine Clement) engineers a daring escape with help from his sexy girlfriend (Nicole Scherzinger). The snarling supervillain plans to travel back in time and kill the man who put him behind bars and shot off his left arm: Agent K (Tommy Lee Jones).

The ripple effect causes Agent K to disappear from the future, heralding a full-scale Boglodite invasion of Earth.

Having ascertained the past has been altered, Agent J (Will Smith) also travels back to 1969 where he meets the young Agent K (Josh Brolin), who claims to be 29 years old.

With assistance from the young Agent O (Alice Eve) and an otherworldly soothsayer called Griffin (Michael Stuhlbarg), J races against the clock to save his best friend from annihilation.

Men In Black 3 initially treats us to Smith and Jones in full flow.

Once the plot steps back in time, Brolin broadly captures the deadpan delivery and mannerisms of Jones's elder incarnation.

Add prestige to your pondlife

by Hannah Stephenson

IF you've ever walked past an ornamental lake and marvelled at the fish in the water, perhaps it's time to introduce some fish into your own pond.

While water in a garden can create an air of peace and tranquillity, fish can provide extra character and movement and will quickly learn to respond to their owners, although it isn't a great idea to tame them.

However, you can't just pick out a pretty one from an aquatic centre and take it home and hope for the best. There are several important considerations before you begin.

Firstly, the pond needs to be of an adequate size to accommodate the fish and give them the best chance of survival. The rule of thumb is to allow 1cm of fish body length for every 60 sq cm of pond surface.

The pool also needs an area at least 75-110cm (30-39in) deep which will remain ice-free, giving the fish a resting place in winter. If you're hoping to keep koi carp, this area will need to be deeper – around 1.2m (4ft).

The most obvious choice for a small pond is the common goldfish. Go to a reputable aquatics centre and select fish which are small and compact, look alert and active, are swimming well and not looking listless or unhealthy. Avoid those with torn fins, fluffy growths or blood stains on them.

IN THE SWIM: Koi, an ornamental species of carp, are highly prized by the Japanese for their exotic colouring and marking.

More exotic goldfish, such as twintails and fantails, do better in aquariums rather than ponds. Golden orfe are surface swimmers and need a pond at least 3m (10ft) long as they may jump out of smaller ponds if startled.

They make excellent display fish, but grow quite large so are not suitable for smaller pools. Other suitable fish for ponds include shubunkins and golden comet.

If you have a larger pond you can consider keeping koi, an ornamental species of carp which are much prized by the Japanese for their exotic colouring and marking. Always buy koi only from a reputable source and make sure that your garden is secure, as large or well-coloured specimens are extremely valuable.

When you are creating a new pond, make sure the plants are established and the water is clear and balanced before introducing any fish. A six-month period will allow the water plants to grow, providing some shade and a few hiding places, while the oxygenating plants have time to become established.

Floating foliage will give fish shade and cover from herons and other predators, while all the plants in and around the edges of the pond take up fish waste matter with their roots and help to keep the water in good condition.

Suitable plants for ponds include iris, nymphaea, Acorus calamus and Butomus umbellatus. Canadian pondweed is good for the water if you have fish, as it's an evergreen which keeps oxygenating the pond all year round and you don't need to plant it. Bunches are sold weighted down at one end and will root into the debris which builds up in the bottom. However, it is invasive and will need to be thinned out several times in the summer to stop it taking over.

Let fish acclimatise to the water gradually. It's a good idea to let them float in a plastic bag on the surface for an hour until the water adjusts to pond temperature and then open the bag and let them swim out.

Pond fish are cold-blooded and the amount of food they need depends upon their activity, which is closely tied to the water temperature. Goldfish and koi become very sluggish below 8-10°C and it is generally best not to feed them when daytime temperatures fall below 10°C or if there is any night-time ice on the pond. Feeding at too low a temperature can result in food being uneaten and polluting the water.

Even when it is mild enough, feed only lightly until warmer weather arrives. Special foods are available for cool weather feeding that are more readily digested. Follow the manufacturer's recommendations on when to feed and use a pool thermometer if necessary to monitor water temperature. Feeding during the milder days of autumn can help to build fish up for their winter 'down time', and feeding in the warmer days of spring will help them to recover from the winter. When really cold weather finally arrives, it's best to stop feeding altogether.

The Camaro is back!

MOT failure data offers useful reliability picture

ANALYSIS of 24.5 million MOT records has revealed that one in five cars registered in 2008 failed their first MOT, with testers most likely to fail cars from French firms Renault, Citroen and Peugeot.

The research by honestjohn.co.uk involved examining tens of millions of records obtained from the Vehicle Operator and Services Agency through the Government's OpenData scheme.

The data shows that between October 1, 2010 and September 30, 2011, one in five cars (352,000 in total) failed their first MOT.

The most common reasons were lighting and signalling (164,837 fails), followed closely by tyres (96,760 fails), headlight aim (82,555 fails) and issues with the driver's view of the road (80,605 fails).

European manufacturers are at the bottom of the table for first MOT failures. The worst performer, Renault, was followed by the British-built Mini, with Citroen taking third from bottom.

A surprise addition to the bottom 10 list, given that its cars are traditionally a byword for durability, is Volvo, with more than 5,800 of the Swedish manufacturer's 26,000 2008-registered cars failing their first MOT.

By contrast, the top three places go to Lexus, Suzuki and Honda, with troubled Swedish maker Saab in at number four.

Broken down by model, the detailed data reveals that the worst performing family car was the Renault Mégane, with only 71 per cent of cars registered in 2008 passing their first MOT.

The Renault Mégane was most likely to fail on lighting and signalling problems, but was also three times more likely to fail on steering faults than the industry average.

The top model was the Suzuki Splash with a 90 per cent pass rate in its first MOT.

Top 5 pass rates by maker:

1. Lexus
2. Suzuki
3. Honda
4. Saab
5. Toyota

Bottom 10 pass rates by maker:

1. Renault
2. Mini
3. Citroen
4. Chevrolet
5. Peugeot

Chevrolet unleashes the 2012 Camaro

THE long-awaited Chevrolet Camaro arrived in the city this week.

The Camaro starts at £34,995 for the manual Coupe, with the auto Coupe tagged at £36,495. The manual Convertible is priced at £39,995, and £41,495 for the auto. The only other options are for colour and where you want your stripes to go.

Rob Huff, pictured above left with Cambridge Chevrolet general manager Luke Gordon, is the World Touring Car Championship driver who drives for Chevrolet and resides in Newmarket, took delivery of the first supercar to be delivered in the UK, in a fetching fiery shade called Inferno Orange.

"She's a big girl but it's a great drive," Huff said of the 6.2-litre V8, adding: "At the end of the day, being the UK ambassador for Chevrolet, I thought I should set an example really."

Quite so! So what's the 0-60 shunt like, Rob?

"0-60? I went for the auto option with the manual paddle system which takes you into complete manual, that is the auto won't override it, so the 0-60 is around 5.6 seconds whereas for the manual it would be 5.4 seconds."

So Boxster territory, speed-wise?

"It's very much in the Boxster/M3 speed figure but obviously it's a much bigger and heavier car and I have to say I'm impressed with the balance. American cars are excellent on a straight line, of course, but this is responsive on a track and there's lots of grip, plus it's surprisingly spacious and comfortable. Plus of course with the history of the Camaro you go down streets and kids are pointing saying 'Look, it's that car'. This is a car that everyone loves because of the history."

The pointing, of course, comes because of the prominent role the Camaro plays in Fast & Furious, and the 1960s Camaro will always be a legend in its own right. Indeed, Huff is planning to drive a rare Roger Penske Camaro at Goodwood this summer.

"It's a historic racer," he says of the possibility. "It's the 640 horsepower V8 and I'm trying to get them to run me at Spa next month. I got them involved as the current Camaro is modelled on the 1969 version and you can see how the Chevy has evolved while keeping the classicness intact. I'll also be at Goodwood this summer, where the new Camaro will make its debut. There's two events, the first is the Hill Climb which I'll do in the 2012 edition, and I'll do timed runs in the Penske."

"Meanwhile I'm running it as an everyday car and will use it at events."

Those events will include the Two Counties Motor Show next month.

SUPPORTED HOUSING SERVICES

Visiting Support Officer x 4

£19,629 - £22,560 PA

We are currently recruiting for experienced officers to join our Visiting Support team. This team will in the first instance be providing support to our residents living in sheltered housing, with potential for expansion of the service to older people living in other council homes and the wider district.

You will need to possess excellent communication skills and demonstrate the ability to organise workloads, prioritise tasks and provide solutions to problems. You will have proven experience of housing support work and be able to demonstrate an ability to work independently as well as part of a team. You will need a current driving licence and access to a vehicle.

The successful applicants will be required to undertake an Enhanced Criminal Records Bureau check before the appointment is confirmed.

Well that's a first, Pat!

PAT Wellstead wrote her name in the club's history books when she became the first Haverhill member to win the Suffolk Ladies Division Four meeting at Waldringfield.

Wellstead topped a 50-competitor field – seven coming from Coupals Road – and scored 39 points, winning the Carruthers Cup.

She finished two points ahead of Mary Krajewski (Fynn Valley) and Maggie Manby (Newton Green). The Newton Green team won the Division Four Shield with 106 points.

■ Haverhill were comfortable winners of their opening Hambro match of the season, cruising into a second round tie at Ipswich (Purdis).

They coped well with the tricky Coupals Road greens, easing into a comfortable 12-point lead after the morning matches, and doubling it by the end.

Highlight of the day was an eagle at the fourth by Eamonn Bareham and Michael Perrett Morning (Haverhill players first): A Fish & P Bartlett won +3 against P Ogden & J Robertson; L Merritt & J Bligh won +3 against S Ward & A Woodman; L Whiting & J Warwick won +2 against R Scott & M Brighty; E Bareham & M Perrett won +4 against P Jordan & J Keeble.

Afternoon: A Fish & P Bartlett won +3 against P Ogden & J Robertson, L Merritt & J Bligh won +2 against S Ward & A Woodman, L Whiting & J Warwick lost -1 against R Scott & M Brighty, E Bareham & M Perrett won +8 against P Jordan & J Keeble.

The Tolly Team received a bye in the first round and are waiting to find out who they will face in the second round on June 24, the same day as the next Hambro match.

■ Joe Davis came out top in the Social Committee

Winners: Alan Wakeman Trophy winners Dick Sisman, John Condon, Dennis White and Syd Gould with Shirley Wakeman

Well done: Ladies' captain Doreen Darbey with Pat Wellstead.

Won it: Joe Davies with his trophy.

Cup, one of Haverhill's major events which was combined with the ladies' Saturday stableford.

On a course which played hard after the recent heavy rain, Davis recorded a commendable 38 points, winning on countback from Scott Turner with Ted Fairhead a point further back.

Davis has had his handicap reduced by a shot to 13.

■ Dennis White, Dick Sisman, John Condon and Syd Gould have won the Alan Wakeman Trophy, a mixed stableford 10-hole competition the club's seniors' section.

Dave Parsons, Pat Sheehy, Dave Ross and Pat Wellstead were second, and the trophies were presented by Shirley Wakeman.

■ Junior member Hayden Durrant was the clear winner of the postponed IFF Challenge, scoring 43 points and racking up a six-point victory margin. As a result, his handicap has been trimmed by three shots to 17.

Division One: 1 Kim Ward 36pts, 2 Dave Whiting 35pts, 3 Chris Vince 34pts.

Division Two: 1 Hayden Durrant 43pts, 2 Chris Briggs 37pts, 3 Richard Norden 36pts. Division Three: 1 Duncan Watson 32pts, 2 Keith Whitfield 32pts, 3 Graham Hepworth 31pts.

■ Haverhill Ladies halved their friendly match against Bourn.

■ Karen Wilby was the overall winner of the two-day ladies' May stableford. She totalled 35 points and, as a result, has had her handicap trimmed to 14.

Results: 1 Karen Wilby 35pts, 2 Jackie Condon 31pts, 3 Catie Heathfield 30pts.

■ Haverhill ladies were unable to capitalise on home advantage and lost to Diss in a close-fought Weston match. The return match is on June 15.

That's one down for HESC in their double bid

HAVERHILL Ex-Servicemen Club (above) are celebrating after a stunning season in the Cambridge and District League.

In just their third season in the league, they won the Division Three title by a staggering 17 points.

Instrumental in the success was Darren Lee, whose 131 break was the highest in the league while another run of 77 was the best in the division.

It completed the first leg of an ambitious double as the Haverhill club are through to the semi-finals of the NCI Centenary Cup, a handicap-based competition open to all the league clubs.

Wrattling's final woe Porter in KO

West Wrattling 0 Burwell Tigers 1

BM Kempton 9v9 League Cup, Under-12 final WEST Wrattling were left cursing a nervous first half as they lost out in the final. Without key striker Jaydon Bayford, Wrattling never got to grips with the occasion and shipped the only goal of the game early in the first half when they failed to deal with a low cross.

Callum Cooley had their first shot on target late in the half and that, as well as their half-time team-talk, settled any remaining nerves.

They laid siege to the Burwell goal and came close to equalising when Aiden Comer's shot into the far corner was touched on to the inside of the post by the Tigers' keeper.

As the ball rolled along the goalline, Wrattling started to celebrate an equaliser, only for the referee and linesman to decide all of it had not crossed the line.

>> Angling

Porter in KO

DANNY Porter's attempt to make it through the Fish-O-Mania qualifier at Barford Lakes, near Norwich, ended in disappointment.

The Haverhill clubman was on Pleasure Lake, along with previous winner Nathan Watson and several well-known match anglers, and amassed more than 30lb of carp from his corner peg. However, the winner came from the main match lake, with a 95lb haul earning qualification.

■ The Haverhill club are holding on open match on the Flood Park on Sunday (draw 8.30am, fish 10-4pm). Porter is handling the entries and further details can be found at www.haverhillanglingclub.net

Perfect Paffett stretches lead

GARY Paffett recorded his first German Touring Car Masters (DTM) victory at Brands Hatch and, in the process, extended his championship lead to 25 points.

The Haverhill driver was dominant at the Kent circuit, leading from lights to flag after qualifying on pole position by 0.2sec – the biggest gap of any qualifying session this year.

Paffett had to defend from the BMW of Bruno Spengler during the early stages but he began to pull away and after 30 laps was 3sec ahead.

A comfortable pit-stop ensured he rejoined the track ahead of his rival and, for the next 23 laps, he kept his Mercedes C-Coupe well ahead of the field.

His second pit-stop did not go so smoothly because of a problem with the right-front wheel, but the couple of seconds he lost did not matter as he had built up a big enough lead to get back out in first place.

Once again he extended his lead over Spengler and took a comfortable win after 97 laps of the Indy circuit for his second victory of the campaign.

"It's an incredible feeling to win at my home race," he said. "It's the first time I've won a DTM race at Brands Hatch and it's a special achievement to do this in front of my home crowd and to give them something to celebrate after all the support they have given me."

"Brands Hatch is one of the most demanding tracks on the calendar as it's such a short track, so keeping your concentration is vital."

"I didn't get the best of starts but held my position into turn one and then it was a case of pushing hard throughout the race as Bruno was always there, so there was no time to relax."

Paffett leads the championship on 68 points with Spengler second on 43.

The series resumes at the Red Bull Ring in Spielberg, Austria, on June 3.

Bunning blitz helps Haverhill ease home

NIGEL Bunning claimed five scalps as Haverhill ran out winners by 36 runs at home to Exning in their Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship, Division One clash.

Exning captain Daren Hayward took 4 for 46 as the hosts were held to 156 for 9.

But after opener Peter Woods went for a duck, the visitors' reply fell apart with Bunning clinching 5 for 28 and Anthony Phillips 3 for 40 to bowl them out for 120.

Jon Watkins was a proud skipper, despite Haverhill's third team failing to defeat against Worlington II in Division 8W.

One of the youngest sides assembled at the club battled to 144 for 4 in response to the home side's 259 for 6 and Watkins said: "I was immensely proud of the way my team played today. Each and every one of the players performed to their best and supported each other, on and off the field."

"This team was set up to encourage and develop the young players at Haverhill and that is just what we did. If these young players are a measure of the standard of young cricketers at Haverhill then we are set for a very successful future at the Manor Ground."

Callum Bunning took the bowling honours with 4 for 48 and although opener Neil Wallis top scored with an unbeaten 68 despite suffering an injury late in his innings, the man-of-the-match award went to Josh Ruthven, who dug in for an unbeaten 41 decrised by Watkins as "a batting display beyond his years".

The second team finally got their Division Six season under way, successfully chasing down Long Melford's 150 for 8, reaching their target with three wickets in hand.

Alex Archer showed immense promise with 71 as Haverhill II beat Earl Stotham by six runs in a nerve-tangling Hunts County Bats Sunday League, Division Three encounter.

Saturday, Marshall Hatchick Two Counties Championship (1pm starts) – Division One: Coggeshall v Haverhill. Division Six: Haverhill II v Brightlingsea II. Sunday, Hunts County Bats Sunday League (1.30pm starts) – Division One: Ampton & Culford v Haverhill. Division Three: Haverhill II v Newton II.

Daniel proves he's pure Gold

DANIEL Goldsmith hit a half-century as Horseheath recorded a 63-run victory over last season's Mr Cricket CCA Senior League, Division One runners-up March II. He had the backing of fellow opener Martin Farrant (24), before Gary Ellis and Ben Piper, who hit 33 and 31 not out respectively, got them up to 172 for 8 from their allotted 45 overs.

Richard Green was the pick of the bowlers with 4 for 40 and Stuart Arnold chipped in with 2 for 36.

Nobody really got going for March apart from John Wallis, who made 21, and Horseheath whipped them out for 109.

Every bowler used had success, with Martin Giles leading the way with 4 for 25. Ellis, Piper and Stephen Lanceman removed two men each.

Dennis Willis' starring role in attack could not stop Weston Colville slipping to a 49-run defeat at home to Newborough in the Tucker Gardner Cambs and Hunts Premier League.

Willis took 4 for 11 with Alex Meddle chalking up 3 for 30 as the visitors were all out for 140, but Colville never recovered from an early collapse in reply as they were bowled out for 91.
